

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 AUG 1982

The Honorable William P. Clark
Assistant to the President for
National Security Affairs
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Bill:

Herewith the Intelligence Community's just completed assessment of trends in the spread of nuclear technology and weapons to additional countries. The assessment, in the form of a comprehensive National Intelligence Estimate, focusses on the increasing difficulties in trying to slow this spread, and the consequent threats to US interests that are likely to emerge.

Given the threat to US national security posed by nuclear proliferation, the Intelligence Community has established the highest priority for collection and analysis of information on the various issues comprising the proliferation topic. In the future we will be focussing our efforts on specific countries and issues of greatest proliferation concern and will update our estimates as warranted.

Yours,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey

Enclosure

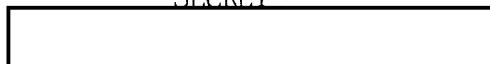

25X1

25X1

SECRET

25X1